1. Applicant's election of Group I in Paper No. 2 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).
2. This application contains claims 17-38 drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in Paper No. 2. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancelation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.
3. Claims 39, 41 and 58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no original disclosure directed to said fixed portion being substantially rigid or said fixed portion being adapted to cover an opening in the substructure.
4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 2, 6, 9, 10, 13, 39-42, 46, 49, 50, 51 and 58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by each of Bartoli and Sassaman. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive. The term "hinging axis" does not distinguish the instant article over that of the references since it does not define a structural feature of the pad. An axis is merely an imaginary or real line drawn through an object. Therefore a hinging axis may be merely a line, imaginary or real, upon which the pad may be folded. Applicant argues that the references articles can be bent at any point, however this does not structurally distinguish the instant article from that of the references since the references articles may be considered to have infinite hinging axis's. Concerning claim 40, the phrase "and wherein said first flap is positioned" merely defines intended use features and does not further structurally define the instant article over that of the references. Regarding claims 39 and 58, the phrase "substantially rigid" is a relative property possessed by all materials and structures.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3, 8, 15, 16, 43 , 48, 56 and 57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over each of Bartoli et al and Sassaman in view of applicant's acknowledged state of the art. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive for same reasons as set forth above in paragraph 5.

8. Claims 4, 5, 7, 11, 12, 14, 44, 45, 47, 52, 53 and 55 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
